BOND ISSUE OF $15,000

For Permanent Improvement Passed By the Council at a Special Meeting.

A special meeting of the Mayor and Council was held on Friday evening with Councilman Littlefield and Brewster absent. Mayor Adams said the meeting was called for the purpose of providing for a bond issue to take care of the rebuilding of the Sagamore bridge, the remodeling of the Old High school building and the paving of Islington street. This bond issue had been authorized before but no resolution had been passed. A resolution providing for a bond issue of $15,000 to be known as Permanent Improvement Bonds, to be had been reached by which the Board of Public Works had provided that they could get a location on the western side of Junkins avenue on the condition that they unite with the New England Telephone company, who wanted new locations on that street, and at the same time that one of the lines of poles on that side be taken down and a new line be constructed that would carry 450 two companies wires. This was agreeable to the council and to the petition of the telephone company was added the clause that they should unite with the telegraph company on Junkins avenue and Lincoln avenue, and that the old line of poles be removed. With this it passed the council and a matter that has been over a year under adjustment was finally settled. Councilman Locke at the same time took the opportunity to question Inspector or Wires Ballard as to whether any of the old poles were left standing about the city when the companies were granted new locations, and he answered that there were not. In answer to another question of the Council, Mr. Ballard said that the telephone company had been refused permission to erect a pole on the corner of Marcy and South Mill streets. Councilman Stoddard brought up the question of the city landing at

SEARCH REVEALED NOTHING

After two days of continual dragging in the river for the body of Melville Spinney of Kittery, the searching party have failed to find the missing fisherman, who has been absent since Sunday last.

A large delegation of the Pythian Sisterhood from Hampton visited the sisterhood in this city on Friday evening, and a pleasant time is reported.

One candidate was initiated into the Sisterhood's mysteries, the work being beautifully done by the regular officers of whom Mrs. Charles Foote is most excellent chief, Mrs. Edgar Hoyt, excellent senior, Mrs. George Macdonald, excellent junior, and Mildred Merrill manager.

After the work refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed. A feature of the evening was the passing of a vote of thanks to Mrs. Ella Smith, Mrs. Frances Gallant and Mrs. Louis Macdonald, the committee who prepared the lodge's beautiful float in the procession at the return of the sons and daughters of Portsmouth.

FRIDAY EVENING WHIST

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Harrison entertained five tables at whist on Friday evening at their remarkably cozy home on the Port Point road. At the conclusion of the play Miss Annie Beane was awarded ladies' first prize, the gentleman's first going to Ralph Morrison.

The daintiest of buffet lunches was served, the entire party sitting on the dining room floor and eating in true Japanese style.

CAMPAIGN STARTED

DECLARATIONS OF CANDIDATES
BEING FILED AT CONCORD

Concord, July 9.—The filing of declarations of candidacy under the primary law was begun Friday morning, and will continue until August 18 with the secretary of state for governor, members of congress, councilors, sheriffs, solicitors, county treasurers, register of deeds, register of probate and county commissioners. They may be filed until August 16, with city and town clerks for representatives, supervisors, moderators and delegates to the state convention.

There was no general push yesterday to file declarations with the secretary of state, and at the office of City Clerk Chamberlin not a candidacy was put into being although there might have been one application from Penacook sent to him instead of to the secretary of state.

Money Returned.
The fee, $2, that accompanied the declaration of John H. Rolfe of Penacook for representative was the only bit of Democratic money that came to the office of the secretary of state during the morning and it was with reluctance that he returned it with instructions to send it to the city clerk.

No Gubernatorial Declarations.
No nominations for governor had been handed in up to two o'clock; but a Mr. Peacock of New Ipswich called at the office during the morning and asked to have his application, for a place at the head of the ticket, filed.

Questions by the secretary of state developed the fact that he had been a resident of New Hampshire for only a period of five years, and he was therefore declared ineligible.

But little is known of the would-be candidate and he disappeared so quickly after the negative by the secretary that the newspaper editors were unable to ascertain the cause which impelled him to put himself forward for the state's highest honor.

The Early Nominations.
The nominations so far filed include the following:

- George S. Rogers, Lebanon, senator.
  - Thomas F. Clifford, Franklin, county solicitor.
  - John G. McQuilken, Concord, county commissioner.
  - George H. Rolfe, Concord, register of deeds.
  - Edwin C. Bean, Belmont, councilor.
  - Elbridge J. Cope, Nashua, register of probate.
  - John Pender, Portsmouth, senator.
  - Albert F. Barr, Manchester, county commissioner.
  - Charles E. Chapman, Manchester, senator.
  - Ernest L. Gupfitt, Portsmouth, county solicitor.
  - John W. Jewell, Warner, county commissioner.
  - Herbert W. Dustin, Pittsfield, county commissioner.
  - Arthur H. Britton, Concord, county commissioner.
- The fees established by law for state and county offices go into the state treasury, while these for representatives and minor office go to the city or town in which they are made.

HAMPTON BEACH CASINO

Following the success of the current week's engagement at Hampton Beach Casino by the Joseph J. Flynn Opera Co., the announcement is made that next week's offering of "The Inspector," a musical farce comedy in two acts will be presented with Tom Whyte in the title and supported by the full strength of the company. "The Inspector" is a two-act farce comedy with many musical interruptions that go to make one of the excellent performances given here in the past, by Manager Flynn's companies under the stage direction of Tom Whyte. The comedy lines in "The Inspector" are bright and witty and keep the audience in roars of laughter, while the music is tuneful and catchy. Mr. Whyte in the principal comedy role will be seen in a part splendidly suited to his well-known ability as an actor and comedian and he will be ably assisted by the clever company ensemble by Mr. Flynn. Performances will be given daily, afternoon and evening, commencing Monday.

VACATION SCHOOL

The vacation school will open for work Monday, July 11, at 9 o'clock in the girls' basement of the High School building. Courses have been arranged in wood working, raffia, cooking and sewing. The work will be in charge of Miss Katherine Breen, who gave such excellent satisfaction last year. Mr. Roy V. Swain, who is to have charge of the Manual Arts department in the High school next year, will conduct the work in wood working. The class in cooking will be in charge of Miss Bertha Smith of the Boston School of Domestic Science, while Miss Breen will look after the work in sewing and raffia. Miss Marguerite Emory and Miss Marion White have been engaged as assistants.

Mr. Howard, physical director of the Young Men's Christian Association, will have charge of the games and sports at the South playgrounds. Miss Kimball is also having erected there a large sheltered tent under which she is planning to conduct classes in sewing and raffia. The work will be conducted in the High school every morning from 9 o'clock to 12 and on the playgrounds from 2 o'clock to 4. If changes in these hours seem advisable, notice will be given to the children.

A large number of applications have been received and the school promises to be unusually large.

OLD HOME WEEK

Of all the busy mornings, we know in our town, Old Home week's were the busiest. For people had come down, And up, across and over, From lands afar and near; To pay an honored visit, To home that once was dear. What saw they here to cherish, In this familiar spot? Or did they come to gather, One more forget-me-not, To deck their life with beauty, "Wherever they may roam," And breathe to them an incense, Of hushed "home, sweet home."

Though some indulge in pleasure, And some in palace live, Naught holds for them the happiness That sight of home doth give. No sky or sea seems so charming, Nor such hale rasis below, As canopy of home lane, Reflected years ago. What found they at the portal Of long-beloved home? Some greeted were by sons, While parents greeted some, But every true home lover, Though absent long or short, May plant in memory's garden This sweet forget-me-not.

Mother, gentle mother, Days of long ago, What, their sweetness o'er me, As in years I grow.

All thy loving kindness, Shining crystal clear, Makes of earth a heaven, As I journey here.

Home and all its comforts, Memory holds so bright, Sheds a halo round me, Of resplendent light.

Knowing thou art near me, Breathing love divine, Speaks the holy message, "Be thou true to mine."

Illness of General Funston Causes Universal Anxiety

The serious illness of General Fred Funston of the United States army has caused much sorrow throughout the country. General Funston is stationed at Fort Leavenworth, where the attending physicians have announced that he will be a long time regaining his health. Starting life as a newspaper man, General Funston today is one of the most prominent officers of the regular army. Since the San Francisco earthquake and the admirable manner in which he fitted into the crisis much of the adverse criticism against Funston has been stilled. He has many warm admirers among the men in the army and the public generally.

the foot of Gates street, which had been left half done and asked if it were not possible to finish it.

Councilman Locke, for the committee, stated that they had expended all of the appropriation and hoped that later they could get another and finish the work, although the information furnished by City Solicitor Harding had broadened the scope of the work. The city now owns all of the flats to the south of the present wharf and it was the idea of the committee to ask that this be made a dump for the city teams, and that all of the ashes collected be thrown there and in time fill it out to the channel, which would give an excellent wharf, but Mr. Locke did not think this could be done this year.

Mr. Stoddard was of the opinion that it would not cost a great sum and now that they had started on it he hoped that the work would be continued and finished.

AT COUNTRY CLUB

The golf tournament this afternoon will be a huge match play between Bagger's Island will soon have a good sized summer colony from the side of the river.

Cook in Comfort

You no longer need wear yourself out with the weakening heat of an intensely hot kitchen. You can cook in comfort.

Here is a stove that gives no outside heat. All its heat is concentrated at the burners. An intense blue flame (hotter than either white or red) is thrown upwards but not around. All the heat is utilized in cooking—none in outside heating.

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

entirely removes the discomfort of cooking. Apply a match and immediately the stove is ready. Instantly an intense heat is projected upwards against the pot, pan, kettle or boiler, and yet there is no surrounding heat—no smell—no smoke.

Why? Because The New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove is scientifically and practically perfect. You cannot use too much wick—it is automatically controlled. You get the maximum heat—no smoke. The burner is simple. One wick with a cloth cleans it—consequently there is no smell.

The New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove is wonderful for year-round use, but especially in summer. Its heat operates upward to pan, pot, or kettle, but not beyond or around. It is useless for heating a room.

It has a Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping plates and food hot. It has long turquoise-blue enamel chimneys. The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

TO OIL ROADS ABOUT THE CITY

The Board of Public Works have awarded the contract for oiling the roads about this city, and it seems to be a step in the right direction. The roads to be oiled are Lafayette, from W. O. Walton's house to Elwyn road; Middle road to the Plains, or possibly the Greenland line; Sagamore road, from the cemetery to the Rye line, and on the other side of the city along Maplewood and Woodbury avenues.

This seems to be the only way of protecting the roads from the wear and tear of the automobiles, for with every passing machine there is a cloud of dust that takes part of the road over into the next field.

JOHNSON'S SNUG BANK ACCOUNT

Deposits $100,000 at Chicago and Buys Auto For Mother

PLAN TO "THROW" FIGHT

Champion Confirms Charge That He Was Offered $100,000 to Lay Down—Certain That Jeffries Knew Nothing of Trickery—Little's Lawyer Declares That Story Is Untrue—Rickard to Sue Gillett For Stopping Fight

Chicago, July 9.—Champion Jack Johnson got away from his enthusiastic friends long enough yesterday to deposit $100,000 in the First National bank, to buy a new $3900 automobile for his mother to use while he is out of the city, and again to confirm Tex Rickard and Sig Hart in their claims that Johnson was offered $100,000 if he would lay down in the big fight.

It is believed that eastern gamblers were interested in the movement. Johnson says the proposition was made by George Little, at that time his manager, who said the pictures would be worth a million dollars more if they depicted Jeffries winning in the eighth round or thereafter.

Johnson at first thought Little was joking, but when the subject came up the third time, he broke all negotiations with Little and ordered him kept out of the camp. The attempted frame-up was kept secret, as it would have injured the fight.

Johnson is certain Jeffries knew nothing of the trickery and says the hollermaker would have done just as he did—refused to enter into any crooked deal.

Johnson and Sig Hart also confirm the story that attempts were made to dope him, presumably the work of crooks who had bet heavily on Jeffries. Cotton, his trainer, got the dope instead and has been ill ever since. These facts may explain why certain New York and Chicago gamblers bet heavily that Johnson would not come up for the eighth round.

Denial by Little's Lawyer

San Francisco, July 9.—That George Little did not make a proposition to Jack Johnson to throw the fight, but that the split between the Chicago manager and the champion was directly due to Little's fear that Johnson would lay down, is the statement made by Frank McEvoy, who acted as attorney for Little during the preliminary details of the fight. Little is on his way to Chicago.

Rickard Will Sue Gillett

San Francisco, July 9.—Tex Rickard declares he will file a suit for $25,000 or $30,000 damages next week against Governor Gillett, because the governor had assured four of his friends that nothing could be done legally to stop a fight. Then, contends Rickard, when he had spent much money, the governor stepped in and forced him to take the fight to Reno.

IS LIKELY TO HOLD ON

Tracewell Has Been Comptroller of Treasury Nearly Thirteen Years

Washington, July 9.—Robert J. Tracewell in a few days will complete his thirteenth year as comptroller of the treasury. With but one exception he has broken all records for service in this office. The exception is in the case of Joseph Anderson of Tennessee, the first comptroller, who served continuously for twenty-one years, and was then summarily dismissed by President Jackson because he refused to take orders from the president.

Tracewell has served under three presidents and is universally spoken of as the ablest comptroller the treasury has ever had. In the thirteen years he has written about 32,500 opinions, or an average of 2500 a year. Recently there have been many changes in the treasury department, but there has been no intimation that the Indiana man is not to continue to hold on.

BOTH WANT NOMINATION

Foss and Vahey to Confer on Bay State Constitutional Situation

Doston, July 9.—Congressman Eugene H. Foss and James H. Vahey are to hold a conference in the near future on the question of the Democratic nomination for governor. The conference is arranged by Chairman Macleod of the Democratic state committee.

Both candidates for the nomination have already signified their intention of "getting together" and talking the situation over. Within two weeks, it is believed by those who have been working to prevent a contest in the Democratic convention, the entire situation will be straightened out.

NEW CASTLE NEWS

Cottagers and People from Other States

Portsmouth Old Home Visitors Who also saw New Castle

New Castle, July 9. Swiftly the summer sojourners are folding their tents like Arabs and as silently stealing to our little summer Eden, where nature still holds sway, where amid the alluring ozone of the pines and the life-giving breezes from old ocean, they can drink deep satisfying draughts of nature's sweet restorer.

Rev. George B. Frost, who passed the national holiday with relatives, has returned to his home in Andover. Mrs. Sarah Fay and son Fred, of Swampscott are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jotham Emery.

Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell and daughter Dorothy, who have been passing a brief tarry at their cottage have returned to their home in Lynn.

Mr. William Preble and family of Allston, Mass., are stopping at the Fort cottage.

Mr. Clinton B. Yeaton of Cambridge is passing his summer vacation with his parents.

Mrs. William Edwin of New York is at the Buena Vista cottage.

Miss Lena Tully of Cambridge is the guest of Mrs. Evelyn S. White.

Mrs. John Kerling of South Boston is the guest of Nathaniel H. Yeaton and family.

Rev. William S. Emery and family of Amherst, Minnesota, are the guests of his father, Jotham Emery. Mr. Emery made a strenuous effort to adjust his professional duties so as to be in dear old New Hampshire on Old Home day. It is a number of years since Mr. Emery visited his boyhood home and he is receiving a grand welcome from his friends whose names are legion.

"How dear to my heart are the scenes of my childhood" was personified with great effect in Portsmouth on Monday. Dear Old Strawberry Bank did itself proud in this Old Home day festival, being the stimulus to bring a large number to our island town. The results have justified all expectations. Much of its success being due to the fortunate selection of a name for it, tells the whole story in three words. There is something about Old Home which catches the eye and appeals to the best sentiments in all of us no matter how far we have drifted, no matter how strongly we have become attached to the place where we have pitched our tents, the bonds which bind us to the old home are the most lasting. Old Home appeals to every person of mature years, father, mother and childhood, and when you think of Old Home you bring back the tenderest memories possessed by man, true love, perfect faith, holy reference, the long, long thoughts of youth. There is nothing that appeals to the average man or woman so strongly as the words of "Home Sweet Home." The home-comings were joyful even if tinged with a few sad memories, there were many pleasant things to remember about the old home, old friends, old associates. These always will gladden the heart, because recollection is the only paradise from which we cannot be turned out and because of this successful festival many has been imbued with new hope for the future, having had the realization of But far more bright, more dear than all, That dream of home, that dream of home.

CARD OF THANKS

Osgood lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F., wishes to extend their thanks in this public manner to the following for favors received on the occasion of the preparation of their float for the parade of July 4th: Oliver W. Ham, McKenney and Littlefield, Mrs. C. H. Clough, William P. Pickett, James Mabery, the Arthur Richardson company, Fred A. Gray and company, and especially to Charles W. Badger of the Maplewood farm for the many extra favors and courtesies extended and to all others who rendered favors for this occasion. The committee greatly regret the unfortunate accident that happened which prevented their taking part in the parade, as they feel sure the float they had prepared would have been a credit to the parade and to its representations of Fraternity.

BLOW AT "OPEN DOOR" POLICY

America Acquiesces in Russo-Japanese Treaty

SECRET AGREEMENT MADE

Two Nations Will Act Together to Preserve Rights Already Gained in Manchuria—Will Not View With Complacency Any Railroad Rivalry—Alliance Contains Nothing of Promise to American Trade Interests

Washington, July 9.—After a careful study of its terms, the United States has decided to raise no objection to the new Russo-Japanese agreement respecting Manchuria. It is likely that in reaching its decision the state department has set an example which will be followed by all the other powers. Not that the arrangement is pleasing to this or any other country, but that the various powers do not see what they can do about it.

The agreement specifically provides that both parties shall respect the open-door policy in China and the integrity of the Chinese Empire. A stipulation which they can well afford to make in view of the immense advantages the new arrangement brings to Russia and Japan in determining their permanent occupancy and trade division of Manchuria. It is believed here that the transaction includes also a secret agreement in which Russia and Japan will act together to preserve rights already gained in northern China.

The Russo-Japanese treaty no doubt is an indirect out none the less positive outcome of the proposition of Secretary of the State Knox to neutralize the Manchurian railroads, the ownership of which is divided between Russia and Japan.

The Knox suggestion was bound to fail, for the two eastern powers had gone too far with their plans of railroad and trade development to turn backward. The United States then urged the promotion of a parallel trans-Manchurian road, but so far the scheme has not got beyond paper.

Having determined to hold what they already have, Russia and Japan can hardly be expected to view with complacency any railroad rivalry, neither is it likely that the other European powers are in a position to force the two allies to withdraw from Manchurian territory. The trade interests there, like those of the United States, are still too small to justify overt action of that character.

The practical operation of the new agreement will be to bring about conditions desired by Russia and Japan immediately after their war. It was then too early for the two enemies to come to a complete understanding, although the Russians proposed it at the time. Japan's alliance with Great Britain stood in the way and the Hay open-door policy was still of vital influence in the east.

With the lapse of time the same result has been attained with no appreciable loss to either power meantime. It cannot be denied that the alliance contains nothing of promise, if nothing of actual menace, to American trade interests in Manchuria. Open discrimination, at least, has not been practiced against the United States, but distance alone puts us at some disadvantage, while the Oriental methods of competition in themselves are a unique protection to the nations occupying the ground and one which foreigners cannot easily overcome.

The new far east convention signed by representatives of Russia and Japan appears to be but one of a series of documents by which the two powers seek to apportion Manchuria for exploitation by themselves to the exclusion of other nations that have heretofore insisted on the maintenance of the open-door policy. It marks another stride in the increasingly apparent rapprochement between Russia and Japan that has come on imperceptibly since the period of strain immediately following the Russo-Japanese war.

WANTS TO BE GOVERNOR

Clergyman Enters Political Arena in the Granite State

Milford, N. H., July 9.—Rev. Charles R. Peacock, pastor of the Congregational church in New Ipsworth, caused a surprise in New Hampshire politics when he filed papers with $100 fee attached, with the secretary of state for the nomination at the primaries as a candidate for governor. He is a Republican and will fight his campaign on a "constructive policy." The direct issue of Peacock's candidacy is "the establishment of elementary and secondary schools of applied sciences."

Boston Bigamist Sentenced to Two Years in Prison

Boston, July 9.—Claude L. Ashmore, 50 years old, a painter and decorator, was confronted by two wives in the municipal criminal court. He was sentenced to spend two years in the house of correction.

Before the case had gone far it developed that Ashmore has a third wife. She is in a sanitarium in Rhode Island. Two children, resulting from this union, live in Roxbury.

When the case was called and Ashmore asked what he would plead he said: "Not guilty." When the testimony had all been taken and Judge Parmenter asked him what he had to say then, he said: "It's all true, Your Honor; I'm guilty."

This is the first time that a bigamy suit was ever tried under the new state law here which permits such an action to be disposed of in the municipal courts.

TO QUIZ COOK'S ESKIMOS

Rasmussen About to Start on Greenland Tour to Last Six Years

Copenhagen, July 9.—Knud Rasmussen, the Danish explorer, will sail from here tomorrow for Greenland on an exploration tour which will last six years. Peter Freuchen, the Greenland expert, has promised to join the expedition and witness his (Rasmussen's) cross-examination of Dr. Cook's Eskimos.

The expedition will go first to Melville bay, which will be chartered. A substantial house will be built there which will be at the disposal of future Arctic expeditions. Rasmussen will also try to find Crocker's island, which was seen by Commander Peary in latitude 85 degrees.

HIS AGE AGAINST HIM

Mosby, Once a Noted Guerrilla Fighter, Loses Government Job

Washington, July 9.—Colonel John S. Mosby, who distinguished himself in the confederate cause during the Civil war as a daring guerrilla fighter, and in the early part of President Roosevelt's administration was appointed a special officer in the department of justice, has lost his government position.

The reason therefor has not been made known, but it is understood old age was the main cause for the dismissal.

Wires Restored to Brokers

New York, July 9.—As suddenly as the wire service to various brokerage offices in New York state cities was suspended, so suddenly was it resumed again in many of them, and with no more explanation by the Western Union Telegraph company for the second change than for the first.

MOVEMENT IS WORLD-WIDE

Protests Abroad Against Motion Pictures of Fight

THE SYNDICATE YIELDS

No Intention of "Bucking" Law of City or State and Will Make No Effort to Show Pictures in Any Place Where Adverse Legislation Has Been Taken—Several More Governors Express Sympathy With Movement

Boston, July 9.—The movement to bar the motion pictures of the Jeffries-Johnson fight, which had its inception in Boston under the management of William Shaw, secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, not only won success in Boston, but has spread throughout the entire world, word coming from England, Calcutta and Melbourne that protests against the exhibition have been made and will probably be successful.

Governor Draper has replied to Shaw that the question is one over which he has no jurisdiction, the statutes placing the matter in the hands of the mayors of cities.

Several more messages from governors expressing sympathy with the movement were received by Shaw. In several instances where the governors have said they had no legal power to prevent the exhibition, they have said they would use all their influence to have local authorities stop them.

B. F. Keith, the vaudeville manager, has issued orders to the managers of his various theatres throughout the country that under no circumstances would he allow any moving pictures of the Jeffries-Johnson contest to be exhibited in any theatre in which he is interested.

Dispatches from Chicago quote George Kleine, William Selig and George A. Spoor, members of the moving picture syndicate, as saying: "No effort will be made to show the pictures in any city or town where adverse legislation has been taken. It will not be necessary to get out injunctions, for this combine does not propose to buck against the law of any city or state. If we find public sentiment is against these pictures we will lay them on the shelf."

A New York dispatch says: "The statement of Messrs. Kleine, Selig and Spoor as to our attitude on the exhibition of the Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures correctly represents our attitude as nearly as can be stated at this time," said William T. Rock of the Vitagraph Company of America in his office, shortly after his arrival here from Reno with the original films of the fight pictures in his possession.

CHARLTON CASE CONTINUED

Confessed Murderer Stands Good Chance of Being Released

Jersey City, July 9.—A further adjournment of the hearing of Porter Charlton in the court of oyer and terminer to Aug. 11 forecasts an early ending of the case.

The papers demanding Charlton's extradition to Italy to stand trial for killing his wife at Lake Como have not been received, and unless the state department at Washington takes some action within the next few weeks Charlton will be discharged from the custody of the Jersey court. Charlton is held on a sixty day warrant and the time will expire on Aug. 22.

Should Italy demand Charlton's extradition the state department will reject the demand unless Italy agrees in the future to turn over to us all Italians who have committed crimes in this country and then fled to Italy. This Italy, it is understood, will decline to do.

PERJURY CHARGED

Milliner Said to Have Sworn Falsely in Bankruptcy Case

Boston, July 9.—Miss Minnie T. O'Connell, a milliner of Everett, was arrested yesterday, charged with perjury and concealment of assets in bankruptcy proceedings.

Miss O'Connell, who is 30 years old, was adjudicated bankrupt on Feb. 14, with liabilities of $1137.32 and assets of $637. It is alleged that during the proceedings which followed she testified falsely, for the purpose of concealing $300 from her trustee in bankruptcy, that she had paid the money to her landlady for board.

When arraigned before Commissioner Hayes she pleaded not guilty, and was held in $300 for a hearing next week.

More Records at Rhelms

Rhelms, July 9.—Two aviators broke the records at the meeting here yesterday. Hubert Latham covered the distance of 93.22 miles in 2 hours, 1 minute, 6 seconds, and afterwards the Belgian, Oiteslagers, did it in 1 hour, 58 minutes, 20 seconds.

LORD SHOLTO GOES TO WORK

Gets $2 a Day After Spending Over $4,000,000 on Actress Wife

Spokane, Wash., July 9.—Vowing that he spent his fortune on his wife and has lost her, Lord Sholto Douglas left Spokane to work on a Canadian Pacific railway surveying crew for three months.

Lord Sholto is brother of the present Marquis of Queensbury and son of that marquis who gained notoriety fame by his code of pugilistic rules. At Bakersfield in 1895 Lord Sholto married Miss Margaret Mooney, better known on the variety stage as Loretta Addle.

In his present despair the noble Englishman estimates the amount he has squandered on his wife at between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. He says he seeks the solitude of a surveyor's camp that he may forget his troubles. Incidentally, he needs the pay, $2 a day, to enable him to eat occasionally.

YERKES RECEIVER'S FEE

He Asks and Will Probably Get $250,000 For His Services

Chicago, July 9.—Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars is the fee demanded and may be paid to Clarence A. Knight, attorney for services rendered in straightening out the estate of Charles T. Yerkes, the late traction magnate.

Granville W. Browning, master in chancery, who was appointed as referee by Judge Cutting of the probate court, declared that the fee is "just and not exorbitant. He not only gave it as his opinion that Knight was entitled to the full quarter million, but that he deserved it for honest and loyal work in recouping the dissipating properties following the street car man's death in 1905.

Trustees and beneficiaries have been fighting through the courts for the various possessions left by Yerkes both in the United States and in England.

THE BASS AND CHURCHILL VISIT TO SAGAMORE HILL

The visit of Robert P. Bass to Col. Roosevelt in company with Winston Churchill on Thursday to talk over New Hampshire politics was a tactical error. Mr. Bass has been conducting a quiet campaign and the republicans believed that he was in earnest as a progressive reformer, but the charge will now be made that Mr. Bass and his friends are simply building up a machine to control the office. The visit to Sagamore Hill at this time and the announced purpose afterwards was a mistake, and this paper says so with regret, because it has had a warm admiration for Churchill and some of the boys connected with that faction of the republican party.

DEMOCRATIC DISSATISFACTION

All does not appear to be harmony in the New Hampshire Democratic camp over the prospect of Mr. Carr being the only man to run for the party's gubernatorial nomination.

The Carroll County Pioneer, published at Sanbornville, is out this week with a column article advocating the selection of Mr. Samuel D. Felker of Rochester.

The Pioneer says: "A man of the strongest type is needed—one who will stand like a rock against any attempt on the part of corporate interests to encroach in one iota on the rights of the people; ever watching and protecting to the fullest of his power, their interests, whenever menaced and in whatever way the danger may come; one who has the ability to see the hidden dangers as well as the open, and whose vision will reach the things to follow any action he may be up against; the results, near and remote, direct and indirect. We do not mean by this that we want a man who shall act the corporation biter; but we desire one at whose hands the interests of every individual, every legitimate congregation of individuals, every institution for legitimate and honorable purpose, shall receive adequate, and honest, and equal, and fair consideration and treatment. And when selecting such a man to head our ticket, to act, to use the words of Lincoln, as 'attorney of the people' of New Hampshire, all this time, with the momentous questions that are looming on the horizon; it behooves the party to place to the forefront the strongest candidate they can possibly produce."

And then this Sanbornville paper says that there can be only one best man and that a second best should not be considered. And it is positive that Mr. Felker is the "best."

Mr. Felker is an estimable gentleman, but we only know as to his qualifications for the governorship of New Hampshire, whether he possesses the tact, discrimination, perception, industry, honesty and backbone which are required in a man who will live up to the Pioneer's ideas of gubernatorial requirements.

This is only one instance of many, however, which go to show the dissatisfaction in the Democratic party of New Hampshire, despite the fact that the leaders appear to have decided to let Mr. Carr take the electoral defeat at the polls.

BIRDS' EYE VIEWS

A remarkable coincidence is the death on Wednesday of two former

United States marshals for the district of New Hampshire, Col. Adams T. Pierce in Dover and Clark Campbell, formerly of Mont Vernon, in Revere, Mass.

There are reports that one J. P. Carrigan, who is described as able seaman, claims to have found on Mt. McKinley, a tin tube enclosing a piece of a flag and papers containing writing which he could not read, also sextant observations, which he believes were Dr. Cook's records. He is willing to reascend the mountain to bring down the articles, and we hope that, if he starts, no one will stop him.

The mayor of Keene has come out in favor of a new city charter. He advocates a smaller board to govern the city and believes that one board can do better work than the double chamber system. He recommends that a committee be appointed to draft a new charter, to cause copies to be printed for distribution to the citizens and that later a mass meeting of the voters be called to see whether they will vote to approve said proposed new charter and to ask the legislature to adopt the same.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Hinds of the First Maine

Asher C. Hinds was clerk to the speaker by appointment of Thomas B. Reed in the Fifty-first congress. He has always been a voting resident of the Portland, Me., district, which Mr. Reed represented. Perhaps more than any other living man he is identified with the "Reed rules," the parliamentary system which aimed at making a large body of representatives capable of discharging business expeditiously, and which had practically developed a czarship for the speaker, until it was partially broken up in the present session by a combination of insurgents and Democrats against Speaker Cannon. Mr. Hinds is now clerk to the speaker's table. He has been called Cannon's prompter. The suggestion has been made that if a member of the house, he might well be chosen speaker and that his parliamentary skill would make such an election a fair substitute for the suggested reform of having an outside parliamentarian as speaker, after the house of commons system.

Therefore, a national interest attaches to the news that Asher C. Hinds, in a hot fight, has won the Republican nomination in the Portland district over Colonel Frederick Hale, son of the United States senator, and that there is much more than an even show of his appearance as a member on the floor at the next session. He lacks the temperament that made Tom Reed fascinating; imperious, but he has an acquaintance that is invaluable. In a contest for the speakership, his advantage over other candidates will be marked.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Woman Hating Diplomat Who Responds to Cupid's Call

For two score years L. A. Coromilas, Greek minister to the United States, declared he never would marry. He became known as a woman hater—that is, when it came to a question of marrying. As a host he won many feminine friends, but the marriage question was one even his closest friends refused to discuss with him. "I was fifteen when I declared I would never marry," explains Minister Coromilas, "but now it is all changed. My marriage to Miss Anna Cockrell, July 6, proves that I have been a very foolish man."

Miss Cockrell is a daughter of former United States Senator Cockrell of Missouri and has been prominent in social circles in Washington for a number of years.

LOCAL OBSERVATIONS

Portsmouth is once more in the throes of politics and it looks like old times to see the knives being whetted and made ready for the approaching battle.

It is unfortunate for Portsmouth that she cannot present a united front in her political battles with other sections.

The past week has been in many respects the liveliest for years, and a little spice has been added by the action of City Solicitor Harding in declaring war on "speak eases," and also his tilt with the veteran chief of police, Thomas Entwistle.

Thus far the police commission has taken no part in the controversy and the streets are full of all sorts of rumors. There is more interest in this case than is realized, and there promises to be some interesting developments come from it.

That Senator Jacob H. Gallinger is the "grand old man" of the state was never more plain than when he met his hosts of friends here over the 4th. At an informal dinner tendered him he made a brief address in which he showed his appreciation of the many honors conferred upon him.

U. S. Senator Burnham took occasion to pay him a high compliment in proposing his health, in these words: "To the ablest and greatest senator New Hampshire has ever had and may be continue for many years to serve the state."

Senator Gallinger responded fittingly and paid his colleague this compliment: "It has never been my pleasure to serve with a more efficient or faithful than my present colleague."

Landlord Carter of the Farragut certainly did himself proud in the preparation and serving of the dinner.

Pay Inspector H. E. Dent, U. S. N., in charge of the navy pay office, who is to be relieved on the 15th by Pay Inspector F. T. Ames, U. S. N., will be missed from the navy staff in this city. He is one of the most popular officers ever stationed here.

The citizens are keeping a close watch over the work being done by the Public Works board, and it is up to that department to do its best in the work of road building. Some of the work now under way should have been done three months ago. There is no question but what the board is trying to handle the street work to the best advantage.

The Herald called the police attention to the manner in which the sidewalks were being used and abused and thus far the nuisance has only increased. The fact that Congress street is allowed to be used as storage for empty beer cases and barrels is an eyesore to summer visitors and it would seem that someone in authority could simply see that the city ordinances were enforced. Why not instruct the police officer on the Congress and Market street cars to enforce the law?

JUST IN TIME

Some Portsmouth People may Wait Till It's Too Late

Don't wait until too late. Be sure to be in time. Just in time with kidney pills. Means curing the back. Before backache becomes chronic; Before serious urinary troubles set in.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do this. Here is Portsmouth testimony to prove it.

Mrs. C. W. Ham, 130 State street, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I had my first experience with Doan's Kidney Pills about three years ago. At that time I was suffering from backache and a lameness across my loins and I knew that my kidneys were diseased. I resolved to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a supply at Philbrick's Drug Store. This remedy checked the backache and relieved the lameness in my loins. I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills on several occasions since then and they have always given me prompt relief. I know of many other persons who have tried them with the same good results."

ONE MOMENT PLEASE!

Electric Sign advertising is no longer an experiment. The most successful firms of world-wide reputation as well as the stores with whom we have done business give us facts that prove the advertising worth of Electric Signs to be far in excess of any method of advertising that has ever been devised for the amount expended.

Look for the most enterprising city of today and you will find one that uses Electric Signs on all available locations and where merchants appreciate the advertising value and use light. I am making and selling the best signs that can be produced, not the cheapest, cut signs that will stand up and give service for years. Recent inventions have reduced the cost and also the cost of maintaining. Public spirit and civic pride demand well lighted business sections in our cities, why not do your part with a well lighted, artistic Electric Sign and increase your business as well.

I charge nothing for estimates or sketches and am always willing to explain details and serve your interests. Respectfully yours.

In Memory of Allan T. Weeks

The funeral of Allan T. Weeks will be held on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, instead of on Monday as previously stated, from the residence of Mrs. Mabelle L. Coes. Relatives and friends invited to attend. The following account of the death and life of Mr. Weeks is taken from the Bismark, N. D., Tribune, for July 5:

The community was deeply shocked to learn of the sudden death of one of its well known residents, Allan Thomas Weeks, which occurred at Apple Creek, Monday evening.

Mr. Weeks had been in attendance at the Morse picnic at Schwade's grove, east of the city. He had been pitching horse shoes during the afternoon and was very much heated up. Some of the boys suggested that before returning to town they all take a dip in the creek. Four or five of them went in the water and Mr. Weeks followed.

Apple Creek, at the point where they were, is about twenty-five feet wide. Weeks plunged in and started to swim across. He was almost over to the other side when spectators on the banks of the stream noticed that something was wrong with him. His head was not under water, but his mouth and chin were submerged and water was running into his mouth. An alarm was given to the other boys in the water, and they hastened to the rescue. They hurried him out on the opposite side and tried to bring him to.

It was too late for any human aid, however, as he was already dead. Death was due to heart failure. It is thought that the deceased burst an artery or a blood vessel. He was bleeding at the nose and mouth when his friends were working over him.

The friends of Mr. Weeks could not believe that he was dead, and used all methods they knew to resuscitate him, but their efforts were futile, as death was not in any way due to drowning.

The body was brought back to the city and taken to Field's undertaking parlors, where it will be prepared for burial.

Allan Thomas Weeks was about 30 years of age. He came out here from Boston, Mass. He is a member of the Knights of Pythias and the Elks. The Moose lodge have charge of the body until his relatives are heard from.

At a late hour Monday night the only relative, whose address was learned, was a niece, Mrs. David A. Wasson, summing at Soo-Nipi Park, N. H. She was telegraphed the sad news of her uncle's death and was requested to inform his nearer relatives. The body will be held here until they are heard from.

Mr. Weeks was well known in this city. He was capable, industrious and a diligent worker. He had won a large host of friends, all of whom mourn his untimely end.

The Little Girl who Fell on the Shears is Doing Nicely

Eliot, Me., July 9.

It is two weeks today since little Ruth Spinney was so terribly wounded by a fall on a pair of shears. She has got along well since then, and hopes of recovery are now entertained. She is not likely to be regarded as out of danger for considerable time yet.

Delmont Buck is at home from a Canadian trip.

William Durgin has been visiting his nephew, Perley Spinney at York.

Miss Isabelle B. Remick has been attending the sessions of the National Educational Association at Boston.

Myra and Nettie Cole were the guests of friends in Somersworth on Friday.

Mr. Jesse W. Dees, pastor of the Congregational church, will exchange pulpits with Rev. Isaac J. Merry of Kittery Point Congregational church on Sunday morning. Mr. Merry will preach at the 10.45 service and will administer the sacrament of the Lord's supper. Sunday school, at noon. At the evening service, at 7.15, Mr. Dees will preach on "The Great Interrogation," using for his text Matt. xxvii, 22, "What then shall ye do with Jesus who is called Christ?"

Chairman Howe of the centennial parade committee states that nine good floats have been promised by Eliot organizations and people for that division of the parade.

The fireworks committee is looking for a location for the town centennial display. They want a good place on the water front, handy to the electric cars. There are many feasible locations, but the one that combines all the desirable features is not easy to find.

William Spinney's Eliot express will leave Portsmouth without fail for Eliot and Green Arre at 12 o'clock daily. Leave orders at Pryor and Matthews.

PICTURE PEOPLE
WON'T FORCE
FIGHT FILMS

Chicago, July 9.—Altered by the growing sentiment throughout the country against the exhibition of the Jeffries-Johnson fight films, George
A. Kirtine, William Selig and George
A. Spoor, representatives of the Motion Picture Syndicate, issued this statement last night:
"No effort will be made to show
the pictures in any city or town
where adverse legislation has been taken. It will not be necessary to get out injunctions, for this company
does not intend to buck the law in any city or state. We do not think these pictures are any different from those which have displayed the Johnson-Barnes and Johnson-Ketchum
fights, but if we had that popular sentiment is against them we will
lay them on the shelf and not show
them at all."

WOMAN FELL
175 FEET

BARONESS DE LAROCHE LOSES
CONTROL OF AEROPLANE AND IS BADLY INJURED.

Betheny Plain, Rheims, France, July
9.—Baroness de Laroche, the first French aeroplanist, was fatally injured here on Friday by falling
from a height of 175 feet.

The Baroness de Laroche had flown
around the field once at a height of 375 feet, when suddenly in front of the applauding tribunes, she appeared to become frightened and confused
at the approach of two other aeroplanes. She started to descend, but while 175 feet from the ground lost control of the machine. The aero-plane turned over and fell like a log.
The baroness' leg and arms were broken. Her mangled and bloody body was removed from the wreckage
and conveyed to the hospital, where
it was at first said that her skull
was fractured and that she was dying. The doctors later, after a careful examination, declared that the baroness' skull was not fractured and that she might live.

While momentarily conscious the
baroness explained that the rush of
air from a motor passing over her head had frightened her. She cut the ignition and lost control of her machine.

The baroness de Laroche was one of the pioneers of aviation. She had motor boats in races, and automobiles
at exhibitions, and as soon as flying
became a recognized possibility she
lost no time in learning how to manage a biplane herself.

In one of her first attempts she
came near having a fatal accident,
and many people thought the experience would rob her of her nerve completely. She was carried by the wind over a clump of trees. She did her best to avoid them with a swift turn of the aeroplane's rudder, but
the machine, rushing through the air
at express train speed, touched the topmost branches and with a whirling
crash it went sweeping to the ground
and was wrecked irretrievably.

Instantly the spectators rushed to the spot, expecting to pick up the dead body of the aviator, but she

Roosevelt Rough Riders May Hold Reunion In Cheyenne, Wyo.

Members of Colonel Roosevelt's famous band of rough riders, who participated in the famous battle of San Juan Hill during the Spanish-American conflict, have been prominent in the public eye since the arrival of Roosevelt from his memorable African hunt. The survivors of the rough riders came in from the west in a body to greet their former leader in New York. Then, at the call of their colonel, they attended the wedding of his son, Theodore Junior. As a climax of their visit east they are currently requesting the former president to join them in a reunion to swap tales of the doings during wartimes at the coming rough rider camp to be held in Cheyenne, Wyo.

MADE HIGHEST FLIGHT AT
PLUM ISLAND

Newburyport, July 9.—A. L. Pitzner, of Hammondspoint, N. Y., made a flight of about a mile and a half in a Burgess biplane called the "Flying Fish" at Plum Island early Friday.
After skidding to the easterly end
of the course he turned and headed for Ipswich bluffs, and soon rose in the air, reaching an altitude of 100 feet,
the highest point attained by one of the Burgess machines.

As he neared the half-way house
Mr. Pitzner noted his engine heating
and decided it expedient to descend,
which he did without injury to his
machine, on what is known as Plum Island.

The flight was as pretty as could be desired, the aeroplane being on an even keel all the way. The air was heavy and there was an absence of wind. Mr. Pitzner used an engine
that he formerly used on his monoplane at Hammondspoint. It was his intention to have made a flight of several miles and to return in the at-
to the place from whence he started.

Kauffman, as a midshipman, was not allowed to marry, the Washington bureau having decided that the midshipman's salary of $125 a month was too small. Kauffman then decided to marry after he had passed his examination for ensign. He won the girl, announced the wedding date and
then failed to pass the exams.

The wedding was postponed. Kauffman began to work upon the feelings
of the unimpeachable navy department. He pointed out that he had an independent income, that he had fallen in one subject only and that
the girl had brought her trousseau.
On the fact of this the navy department told him to go ahead. It is probable the wedding will take place
in September.

DESIGN OF MAINE MONUMENT
APPROVED

It Will Cost $100,000 and Will Be Gift
to New York City.

The Maine Monument, a memorial
to those who perished in the United States battleship Maine and the sailors
who died in the Spanish-American War, was approved yesterday,
both as to design and site, at a meeting of the Municipal Art Commission.
The monument is to be a gift to New York City from the National Maine
Monument Committee of which General James Grant Wilson is chairman.
It will be erected at a cost of $100,000
at the entrance to Central Park at Eight avenue and Fifty-ninth street.

LOCAL DASHES

If you want good, fresh, local news
read the Herald.

The warm spell according to the weather bureau seems to be general
all over the country. Farmers are not complaining for it has been ideal
hay-making weather.

The annual convention of the National Education association at Boston has not lacked for interest. There has been something doing every minute.

The executive committee of the Old Home Week celebration held a meeting on Friday, and as all of the ill-
were not in were unable to give out
a report until Tuesday, when at a meeting it is hoped that everything
will be cleared up.

TREATY MAY BE
AGAINST THE
UNITED STATES

Berlin, July 9.—The liveliest interest is felt in official circles regarding the Russo-Japanese agreement
the text of which has not yet been forwarded to the German government.
The maintenance of the status quo
which the agreement is ostensibly intended to secure, is considered most desirable.

The most delicate point in the agreement refers, according to the semi-official Frankfurter Zeitung, to the understanding to act mutually as
the defensive against the intervention by third powers in Manchuria
which still belongs to China. The agreement therefore cannot be directed against China.

It is pointed out that America's obtained concessions for the Algon-Chinech railroad from China, and the question is now raised here
whether the agreement is intended to oppose America's unwelcome intrusion in the Russo-Japanese sphere of influence. If so, the agreement is taken to mean the closing of the open door.

THE NEWEST FADS

"The Early Village Cock" Crows
From Cushion Tops.

BILLIKENS VACATE PEDESTALS

Handsome Billikens Display the "Favored" "Bird of Dawning" Upon Their Cushions Proudly Flaunting the Motto
"While I Live I'll Crow."

The almost universal interest aroused
by M. Hestand's clever play "Chanticleer"
has found practical expression in
many of the season's novelties.

"The early village cock" has indeed
"made his salutation to the morn" to good purpose and awakened us to the realization of the aesthetic charms of
the humble denizens of farmyard and forest.

The newest specimens of art pottery
bear upon their quaint forms representations of gallant chanticleer, lean-

A CHANTICLEER PINCUSHION.

der hen pheasants and sober hued
doris in delightfully rich colorings on
highly glazed gray green backgrounds.
Bronze and enamel ornaments, paper-
weights, hatpins, brooches, etc., all are
in the form of familiar farm-
yard creatures and also appear as swigs,
frogs and wild birds, while "gollywogs,"
"lucky" black cats and hideous little Billikens have had to vacate their pedestals in favor of newer charms and
mascots in the shape of a crowing
cock.

We have long been familiar with
dainty little egg cozies made to represent a cock's head. These are more popular than ever, particularly when expressed in white cloth with scarlet comb and wattles. Others in dark green, yellow and red may be stuffed
as penwipers or emery cushions.

Chanticleer pincushions may be painted with very little trouble and are extremely effective. A flat, hanging pincushion is made by neatly covering
two rounds of cardboard about five inches in diameter with velvet and cutting out a few rounds of thick felt
or flannel, which are placed in layers
until the desired thickness is obtained.
A piece of satin ribbon hides the edge,
and to this the two velvet covers are invisibly sewed. When a cock's head
has been painted on the side in glowing colors and bows of ribbon of two shades added by which to suspend the cushion the result is very pleasing. It is so easy to procure good samples of cock and hens nowadays. There is an excellent series of colored picture post-
cards that serve admirably as guides,
or they may be frequently found in children's picture books.

A very novel key rack is shown in the illustration and is quite easy to manage. A small strip of bamboo or a rustic stick about eight inches long
and flattened at the back must be procured. Three little hooks must be screwed into this to hold keys. The cock, with the rising sun behind him,
should be painted on extremely thick
water color paper and cut out carefully with scissors or a sharp knife.
This is firmly glued to the back of
the strip of wood and a ring fastened
behind the cock by which to suspend
the whole. This design, considerably

enlarged, is very suitable worked in
outline in flax thread upon a linen cozy
for a hot water can, especially if the appropriate words,
"Up, up," says the crowing cock—
"Don't you hear the village clock?"
are introduced.
A handsome blotter also displays this favored "bird of dawning" upon the
cover, proudly flaunting the motto,
"While I live I'll crow."

A NOVEL KEY RACK.

When ironing,
The backs of old kid gloves, sewed
together and used as an interlining to
kitchen kettle or laundry iron holders,
are invaluable as a means of giving
protection to the hands without adding materially to the bulk of the hold-
er. A piece of felt, flannel, blanketing,
serge or even velvet may be used
as the outer covering.

When heating flutrons it is always
best to lift them and wipe after being
on the gas stove.

Instead of having an iron stand on
which to rest your irons, use an ordinary brick for the purpose. The brick
being a good nonconductor, the irons
will retain their heat longer.

PUT ON A GOOD FRONT.

If Your Store Windows Don't Attract Trade, What Will?

There is a vast difference in the amount of good which people get out of their window displays. A great many stores don't "work" their windows as they should, and as a natural
result the windows do not work for them.

The windows must be kept alive.
They must be made to tell a distinct,
emphatic story to the people who pass
by and look in. You can't make a lively window without putting things there
which will attract attention and cause
people to keep watch of the windows
for interesting things.

One Cleveland grocer adopted a simple plan for a lively window attraction
which brings him very good results.
About Thursday of each week he puts
a big placard in his window saying:

"Watch this window about 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Don't miss it."
Then at 5 o'clock Saturday the curtains of the window are drawn, and
the merchant puts into the window
some especially attractive bargains. It may be a choice line of sundries at 10
cents each; it may be a display of bananas at a low price or in the berry
season of berries at a low figure. It is bound to be something which will
move fast and attract instant attention. People have learned to watch for this Saturday night window, for it always holds something especially attractive.

About the most discouraging looking
thing about a store can be its window.
A stale window, which has a tired
look, indicates the same sort of store
back of the window and repels rather than attracts trade.

HE'S THE ONLY ONE.

Everybody but the Traveling Salesman
Ought to Do His Buying at Home.

About the only class of citizen who
may be exempted from the obligation
of buying goods, wares and merchandise in the town in which he resides or
where he makes his headquarters is the traveling commercial salesman.

Mr. Traveling Man makes his living
by the sale of goods to merchants
scattered over a wide territory. Perhaps Mr. Traveler has no trade in his home town. In the majority of instances travelers do not sell very many goods at home. There are exceptions
to this rule, of course. "Naturally the salesman is going to favor his customers whenever he can. The better the customer the more he is likely to buy
if he finds the goods he wants. Then,
again, perhaps the house for which he travels is located in another city. He is located in another city. He is friendly to that city and boasts that town first, last and all the time. He buys whatever he pleases there.

Naturally, though, the bulk of the
family's purchases are made at home,
because it's more convenient.—Commercial News.

Vast Stretch of Street Trees.

The example of the progressive little
city of Riverdale, Cal., in its systematic
care of street trees ought to be followed by many other places. The first
work was done in 1904, when 350 trees
were planted by the chamber of commerce. In 1905 the chamber planted 1,000; in 1906 the chamber planted
more, and the city took it up, the total
for the year being 1,250; in 1907 the city planted 1,500 more, and in 1908
the number was 2,170. In the short time since the start was made the total of 8,378 trees planted would make
thirty-four miles of tree lined streets
with forty feet between trees. In his report the tree warden, J. H. Reed, says, "When I think of these trees as
they will be five or ten years from now
and from thence on, it was worth doing." A great deal of work, too, has been put on old trees, perhaps equaling
the new trees in number.

Answer Promptly.

Don't neglect your correspondence.
If you receive a letter from a jobber,
manufacturer or customer, calling for
a reply, answer at once and show that
you conduct your business on business principles. Naturally a great many retail merchants do not have sufficient
correspondence to justify them in employing a stenographer, and in such cases the volume of their correspondence is such that it would be no hardship to promptly take care of every communication the day it is received
unless it is impossible to furnish the information asked for immediately.—

LITTLE BUSINESS HINTS.

A sign hung in a conspicuous
place in a store at Lawrence:
"Man is made of dust. Dust settles. Are you a man?"—Boston Record.

There would be fewer failures
if there were fewer men blocking the way to their own success.

Credit should be looked after
more closely than cash.

If your religion is better than
your business there is something wrong with your business.

Common sense and cash are a combination that has never been defeated.

It is well to be modest, but
there is no money in depreciating yourself or your establishment even in a joking way.

A man is apt to get his back
up when he is told to bump himself.

The man isn't necessarily conservative because he is slow and foggy.

INDEPENDENCE DAY.
DEATH is our heritage of hope and
glory.
The obligation of our civic faith,
Flying forth the nation's colored flag
to dare
the light, untrodden way, why of the ad.
The unannounced betrayal to us, and yet
to the heart betray us to let
for there are high adventures for this land.
Courage to test the sinews of our power,
for we must pass by the years it ceases
to be ours of success, the risks of peace.
What need we, then, to guard and keep
it whole?
What do we need to prop the state? We have
The life, the faculties of our best steel,
The unbroken integrity of soul.
The world tempests that take the part
in our quest, right, the wisdom of the heart,
save hopes that Mammon never can detain
Nor pally with his gainless clutch for gain.
We need the Cromwell fire to make us
free.
The public honor or the public trust
To be a thing as sacred and august
as the white altar where the angels
meet.
We need the faith to go a path untrod,
The power to be alone and yet with God.

JULY 4.
SPREAD your shouting; hang your
wreaths;
Let your banners be unfurled;
Shout until the welkin seethes;
All about the deafened world;
Get your old time spangles out;
Cheer until you split the skies,
But be careful while you shout
Of your eyes.

DRAG the ancient cannon forth;
Load it to the muzzle's brim;
Let the east, south, west and north
Echo with its blim-blam-blam!
Let the crackers hiss and spit,
Rocket sticks come down kerplunk,

But be careful how you sit
On the punk.

LET the roman candles flare
All the darkened heavens through;
Let the mortars fill the air
Full of stars, red, white and blue;
Let the fluent red light stream
Glimmering like the moon and sun,
But be careful how you blow
Down your gun.

BOAR, rejoice and speechless;
Go through all the bag of tricks
With which now we glorify
Heroes of old seventy-six;
But, no matter what your plea
Mid the roar of bursting bombs,
Careful, oh, most careful be
That you don't get hurt.

LIBERTY a blessing is Worthy to be glorified,
Worthy of the fiery whiz
Of a nation full of pride,
But it seems a humble van,
Empty, useless thing of chance,
When there follows in its train
An ambulance.

Says Government Work is the Best

The navy department has complimented Civil Engineer H. R. Stanford at League Island yard, in a personal letter, for the saving and economical result on the navy yard jobs. Commenting on this unusual economy the department says: "This excellent performance apparently shows that properly supervised yard labor can accomplish work of this kind in navy yards cheaper than it can be done by contract, and also shows that construction work of this character should be supervised by technical officers trained in such work."

Ordered Home

The gunboat Paducah, Captain William W. Gilmer, now at Bluefields, has been ordered to the yard for her annual overhauling and repairs.

GONE TO HIS REWARD

Death Claims an Old Railroad Engineer

Ashbell S. Brown, of Prospect street, one of the veteran engineers of the Boston and Maine railroad, died suddenly on Friday evening, age 70 years.

He had been out during the day and, though not a well man, his death was not expected, and came as a hard blow and a surprise to those who knew and liked him.

Mr. Brown was a native of Hanover, N. H., and began his railroad life with the old Eastern railroad as a fireman in the Portsmouth yard and later between this city and Boston. He was not many years in advancing to the place of engineer and his first run was between Boston and Newburyport. Later he was transferred to this city and ran the 8.15 morning train to Boston, returning at 6.37 p. m. His last days in the cab were on the Portsmouth and Dover branch.

In politics he was a life long republican and one of the active workers for his party in Ward 1, which he represented as alderman, and in the legislature.

In his death the city loses a good citizen, and the railroad a most faithful worker. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity at Newburyport, also the Odd Fellows of that city.

He was affiliated with the Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Golden Eagle, Boston and Maine Relief Association, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and Christian Shore Social club. A wife survives.

A JOB FOR REED

Another Place Offered Him in a Government Survey

Dwight T. Reed, who was summarily dropped from the United States geological survey, and claimed that it was on account of him being a colored man, has been offered another position, that of topographic aid at $75 a month, he to report at August 1, Me., for duty. His attorney, John H. Bartlett, Esq., has received a letter to that effect.

Young Reed is in Chicago, and it has not been learned whether he will accept.

Keep Cool

Coolness and comfort are just as important features of your summer shoes as correct style. You can get all these features in the new Regal Oxfords we are showing—and take our word for it, they are the smartest low-cuts produced this season.

REGAL OXFORDS

are built on special Oxford lasts—not ordinary high-shoe lasts, like other ready-to-wear oxfords. They never slip at the heel or gape at the ankle, but fit smoothly and evenly at every point. Regal quarter-sizes make it easy to get your exact fit.
